

Table listing numerous locations and their administrative details, organized in columns. Each entry includes a name, a district or region code, and a page number. The entries are densely packed and cover a wide geographical area.